KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

At a largely attended meeting of Old Dominion Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, held in the Masonic Temple last night, the commandery was inspected by the grand chaplain of the Grand Commandery of Virginia, Sir J. Cleveland Hall, of Danville, who was highly pleased at the creditable showing made by Old Dominion which is one of the banner commanderies of the state.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then held and the following officers were elected: Marshall L. Dinwiddie, eminent commander; Frank W. Latham, generalissimo; Chester A. Gwyn, captain general; William G. Lehigh, senior warden; William B. Davis, junior warden; Edgar Warfield, sr., treasurer; Alfred G. Uhler, recorder.

The eminent commander-elect made the following appointments:

Henry K. Field, prelate; Claude W. Fletcher, standard bearer; Walter C. Davis, sword bearer; James M. Duncan, warden; P. T. Harrington, third guard; James N. Nalls, second guard; William H. Charles, first guard; Park C. Timberman, sentinel.

The officers were then installed by the inspector, and the sr. knights proceeded to the Elk's new hall where a delightful banquet had been spread by Mr. F. C. Spinks, and all enjoyed themselves until a late hour. Speeches were made during the evening by the grand chaplain and Sr. Eminent Commander E. E. Downham.

SENT HOME.

Miss Beatrice Conrad, 17 years old, who was taken into custody at Union Station in Washington Wednesday night in company with Clyde J. Carpenter, a newspaper vendor, as they stepped from a train, and whose arrest stopped the marriage of the couple, was released from the house of detention yesterday in that city and sent back to her home in Harrisonburg, by the board of charities. Shortly after Miss Conrad had boarded the train for home Carpenter was released from custody. Just before the train left Miss Conrad said that at the first opportunity she would be married to Carpenter.

SUICIDE'S REMAINS CREMATED.

The remains of William H. Through the Baltimore youth, who was found dead near Fort Myer, Tuesday morning, were cremated in Washington yesterday.

The announcement that the Alexandria county authorities have dropped the case brings about a peculiar situation in that they declare the young man took his own life, while F. L. Hall, C. O. Thomas, Stiles Deibel, William Marcey, T. M. Wampler and A. C. Crounse, members of the coroner's jury sworn in at the inquest held over the body as it lay in the woods, declared that Through had met his death at the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jury, the victim of murder.

Crandall Mackey, commonwealth's attorney, is one of those who is not satisfied that Through took his own life. Mr. Mackey believes that it is an utter impossibility for a person to commit suicide by placing shoestrings about his neck and then twisting them with a lead pencil until suffocated, as was the method used in the destruction of Through.

WILL ADMITTED TO PROBATE.

Gardiner L. Boothe, an attorney of Alexandria, counsel for Mrs. Mary E. Grimes and children, appeared before Judge Bachman in the Corporation Court Thursday and probated the will of Sarah E. R. Simpson, until her death a few weeks ago, a resident of this city. Mrs. Grimes qualified as administratrix, giving bond in the sum of $4,000. The estate is valued at $4,500, $1,000 of which is left to French Hufty, a nephew of Mrs. Simpson. Mrs. Simpson left her watch and household furniture to her great nephew, H. Simpson Grimes, and the remainder of the estate goes to Mrs. Grimes and children. —[Newport News Press.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.

Another large crowd witnessed last night one of the best features in vaudeville ever presented in Alexandria. The audience was kept in a roar of laughter all the time, the trio of artists proving themselves equal to the occasion. Helen Carmen, the girl with the contagious smile, as is good as they come, and an entertainer of much merit. Arnold, in his study of paper, chalk and witty brain, deserves special mention; while Kleisel's dog circus is a catchy feature and must be seen to be appreciated. Feature films will be shown Tuesday night for the first time in this city. The subject will be announced from the stage tonight.

ANNOYING POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES.

The new revolving doors in the post-office are being utilized by many pupils of the public school children for their diversion, so much so that the police have been appealed to for relief. About four times a day droves of the little ones enter one door and run through another, causing much noise in their entrance and exit. Should any of the offenders be taken in custody they will be arraigned before Commissioner Garnett.

POLICE COURT.

ALEXANDRIA COUNTY NOTES.

The Board of Supervisors instructed County Engineer Garrett to purchase sufficient tar surfacing material to cover the new macadamized road between Rosslyn and Cherrylee.

The Board of Supervisors has selected Attorney Frank L. Ball to represent the board this year at Richmond in the matter of the assessment of the land of the steam and electric railways in Alexandria county.

The commonwealth attorney has notified the Alexandria Electric Light Company it must forthwith remove its poles out of the county road on Mt. Vernon avenue and repair the damage done to Mt. Vernon avenue caused by filling the ditches with earth and limbs of trees so as to cause the water to overflow the road and to cut deep gulleys across the highway. —[Monitor.

SUNKEN VESSEL RAISED.

The two-masted barge, Skylight, which was rammed by the schooner Enola, Capt. Hayden, last Saturday night off Hallowing point, near Gunston, slipped from the shoals into about six fathoms of water, and, with the changing tides, had become a serious menace to navigation. The barge, in command of Capt. Patrick Moore, was loaded with watermelons, and was headed for Washington when the collision occurred. A big hole was cut in the side of the Skylight by the Enola and the men aboard took refuge on the schooner, which was bound down the river. The Skylight was raised at an early hour this morning and later passed up the river in tow of a tugboat for Washington.

MRS. BARRETT.

The Marion, Ind., News of Monday says:

"Motherhood a Means of Regeneration," afforded Mrs. Barrett, president of the National Florence Crittenton Mission, the subject of an address at the First Presbyterian Church last night, which will be remembered as one of the impressive features of the present session of the Indiana State Conference of Charities and Corrections. No more inspiring was the message Mrs. Barrett bore than was her wonderfully sweet face, reflecting, as it does, all that is good in woman and a mind that knows well the significance and beauty of motherhood. One night, thirty years ago, Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett was in her home in Alexandria, Virginia, with her husband and baby, a son, when someone knocked at the door. When the door was opened there entered a young woman with a baby in her arms. She was trying to dodge the finger of scorn. She did not want to be separated from the nameless son in her arms. True motherhood had been awakened in her heart. "It was then and there that I realized that her son was as dear to her heart as my son was to mine, and that our feeling of motherhood was mutual," Mrs. Barrett said. Since that night Mrs. Barrett has not only been preaching motherhood but she has practiced it with a spirit that has saved numerous downfallen women and removed the stain on the birthright of motherhood. Through her interest in motherhood and the good she has accomplished Mrs. Barrett is now at the head of the greatest institution of its character in the world."

The truth about some things never leaks out until it's too late. After you buy something that you think is cheap and then find out you've been stung, it's too late to kick. The best thing to do is to buy what you "know" is good. You "know" those irresistibly delicious Auth Sausages and Puddings are "good." Everybody does. That's why most everybody buys 'em. And they "never" get "stung." Blenheim's Auth Stand and Market.

The children from the Children's Home on Duke street were given a most enjoyable outing last Tuesday on the farm of Prof. Andrews on Seminary Hill. The children will long remember the day, for which the ladies of the home wish to express their appreciation to Prof. and Mrs. Andrews.

WOMEN CRIMINALS IN RUSSIA.

"The women criminals of Russia are more to be dreaded than the men." This is the opinion of Etienne de Krouleff, chief of the Russian prison administration, who has come to this country to attend the International Prison Congress in Washington next month. "A woman criminal can do anything that a man can," he continued. "She can kill, rob, burn, plot, and she can induce hundreds of men to do likewise, particularly if she is at all pretty or magnetic. Therefore, the danger. A man is just himself; a woman is herself, plus as many men as she knows." Notwithstanding this fact, Krouleff says the women criminals of his country are treated well, the Russian spirit of chivalry protecting them from the knout, and other severe forms of punishment.
